

After working on CATIP for the last several years, on Thursday August 26, 2021, five FOSM volunteers went for something totally new and worked on the Challenge Trail extension west of the old Dry Camp parking lot.

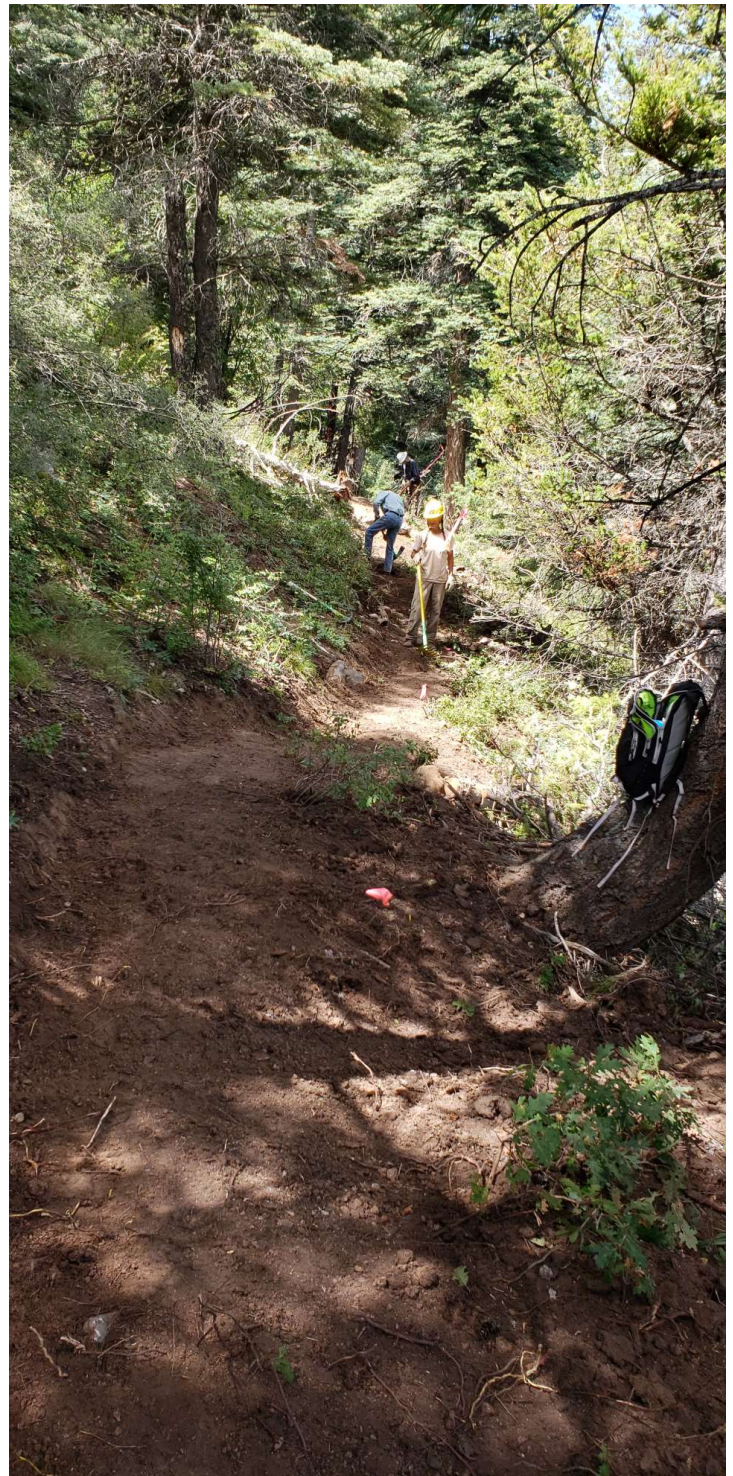

There we worked on the existing trail the AMBA cut several weeks ago. We widened, narrowed, pulled rocks, pulled tree stumps and the usual fun activities.

It was nice to be out of the deep canyons and out in the open with far views.

Volunteers were blessed with cool temps throughout the day.

The volunteers were: Byron Garner, Pat Madden, Bruce Hansche, Claudia Bergsohn, and Eric Russell.

Walking north up the pin flagged corridor that goes and goes there is a lot of steep benching in store. So, job security.

Working on a Rocky Section of Trail

Finishing Tread on the Challenge Trail – Great Views