

On Thursday, November 4th, nine FOSM volunteers began building an extension of Wagon Trail which will add a segment running north from Horse Bypass to the Sulphur Canyon Picnic Area. It was a cool sunny day, with warmer afternoon temps. The terrain was only moderately steep, and aside from the usual roots and rocks the going was easy relative to recent weeks on the Challenge Trail, so the work progressed more quickly.

The volunteers were David Bernstein, Jenny Blackmore, Phil Cromer, David Gabel, Byron Garner, Bruce Hansche, Mike Madden, Pat Madden and Eric Russell.

Photos by Jenny Blackmore.

A lovely layer of needles and duff needs removing along the tread line.

Another beautiful fall day in the woods!

Sulphur Canyon Road visible behind Eric. The new extension will bypass a road-walk/ride.

Bruce and David B wrassle a rock

Dave G gets his workout in. Alas, poor root...

Bruce takes a breather from chopping this high-stump with a Pulaski, while Byron tries a new approach.

End