On Thursday November 17th seven FOSM volunteers returned to the Challenge Trail extension, along with Jeff Cervantes from the SRD crew; Kerry Wood, Cibola Trails & Wilderness Manager; and Russell Berman, Cibola Assistant Trails & Wilderness Manager. Despite cold and snowy conditions, the ground was mostly unfrozen and good progress was made... even with KOB filming and interviewing the crew! After the film crew left, Kerry and Russell joined in the tread-building fun, "constructing dirt paths.";-)

The volunteers were David Bernstein, Jenny Blackmore, Sim Cook, Luis Cuadros, Byron Garner, Jim Houle and Scott Sunde.

Photos by Jenny Blackmore. Stills by Luis Cuadros.

.....

A chilly start, but workable soil. Those in front encounter steeper terrain.

David, Byron, Sim

Sim discovers a root?
Or a patch of frozen ground

Shade or sun, it's a beautiful day

Jim, Jeff, Luis

Luis adds some finishing touches

Look what Byron found!

What film crew...? Scott stays focused

The man behind the KOB camera. Kerry and Russell can't wait.

"... most of these volunteers are retired doctors and dentists."

This week it was completely true!

David, Sim, Byron, Scott, Jim, Luis – all retired from the medical profession:)

Our three minutes!

